Good morning, Mrs. Patick.
We have been made aware that you have some concerns regarding events at your daughter's school at Christiana Middle School. I have left two voicemail messages on your cell phone, but I wanted to follow up with you via email as well in hopes to reach you. We would like to meet with you in person to discuss any concerns you may have. Please let me know when you are available to meet.

Thank you and have a great day.

The injury occurred during class change. The student and another student came into my classroom playing around and wrestling each other in the back of the classroom. The student then slipped and fell into the podium/table on accident while they were "horse-playing". When the student fell he hit the bottom of his head/neck on the desk behind him. He was then sent to the nurse to get him checked out and contact his parents.

was at second base taking ground balls when he took a ball off his right cheek. He was wearing glasses. I checked him out in which he never lost consciousness, pupils were normal, wasn't dizzy, speech was clear, and he answered all my questions. He wanted to continue to practice. After practice he did have some swelling under his right eye. I informed his father after practice and explained the details.

When we went to the restroom, he was staying in the restroom a little longer than usual. Another student came out and said, "something is going on in there with him." I called out to [redacted] and he came out of the bathroom. His cuticle/nail was bleeding badly. It looked as if the cuticle had been ripped off, and blood was visible all over [redacted] hand. I walked [redacted] to Mrs. Turner's office to let her know I was sending him to the nurse. I sent [redacted] down to the nurse, and I called Mrs. Lee in guidance to let her know what had happened. She said [redacted] does this often when he is upset. The nurse called [redacted] grandmother, and she came to pick him up from the school.

Per the teacher (Kevin Laterza) [redacted] came running up to me at my post (outside the gym doors) and was yelling that I have to help him, they just punched him in the face. I noticed he did not have his glasses on. I asked him what happened, and he said that [redacted] punched him in the face." I asked what happened to his glasses, he said that "they fell off and he did not know what happened to them." (One of his friends brought them over.) I asked him which [redacted]; because there are at least two [redacted] in Rho House. And he said the one with the dark curly hair.
