First thing tomorrow: I suggest that we send an email to each commissioner from me giving them notice that Ed will quickly follow with a call/email to set a one-on-one meeting this coming week re: Coffee County Planning Commission status.

My email draft (I will include an email receipt so we know they received it):

Well before our next Commission meeting, the Mayor wants to make sure that each of you is brought up-to-date on the concerns regarding the legitimacy of the Coffee County Planning Commission's authority.

For that purpose, Ed North will contact you individually on Monday (10/30) to set up a half hour meeting this week at CCAP with him and you, to lay out the issues involved.

It is very important that you meet with Ed this week.

If you cannot do so, please contact me and I'll assist in making other arrangements.

i like it but let's leave out the subject matter, only that it is a confidential attorney client meeting each one needs to attend. let them know we can meet after normal business hours if necessary. remind them that all communications in regard to this meeting are confidential and not to be shared with anyone.

thoughts, Ed?

I will go over confidentiality before each meeting with each of them. I like the idea about leaving out the subject of the meeting.

i proposed to sam we start scheduling the meetings to begin wednesday right after lunch. make them consistent from a quarter after the hour to a quarter before the hour. that way no one overlaps at all and we try to avoid any queue of people in lobby. we schedule meetings from wednesday this week with a solid goal of having them all done by the following wednesday. As confirmations of receipt of emails come in we can book the meetings. we will have some that don't read emails or are hard to get an appointments with so we need to stay on those. Spreading them out also gives time to handle other business.
